Why do people hesitate to reduce fuel consumption and...

costs, and extend the normal engineered life expectancy of trucks, heavy equipment and vehicles by 2 or 3 times ??

The main reason is due to manufacturers and oil companies brain washing us to believe there are no advantages beyond their self serving recommendations. They do not want you to reduce fuel consumption, repair / parts costs or double normal operating service life. It is very important for your mechanics to learn precisely what Enviro-Save is and support reducing costs that increase truck reliability and help the company be more profitable and successful. Most mechanics want to reduce costs, but how??

Mullen Trucking's success in reducing operating costs with Enviro-Save (ES) began with Mr. Mullen personally proving ES works as stated. Then he arranged for all mechanics and staff to attend our presentation in their shop so everyone understood why ES is different from other products, how simple ES is to use, and the benefits to the company. Mr. Mullen knew everyone needed to be on side so the reduction in company costs would be maximized and not simply discarded due to personal views.
