For 15 years we have used Envirosave metal treatment products in everything from heavy duty equipment such as snowcats, loaders, bull dozers, etc., to personal vehicles, to snowmobiles, ATV's, our garden tractor, and even chainsaws and rototillers.

We have never experienced an engine failure with any machine that has been treated with Envirosave. For comparison, we have taken before and after photos of dash gauges, and have noticed a definite difference. The temperature gauges always operate at a noticeably lower level after the treatment, (approximately 20% lower) and we have found that fuel consumption is approximately 12% less than prior to treatment - proving Envirosave's claim of less wear on the engine's moving parts, and increased fuel economy – which, with today's fuel prices, is certainly a bonus!

Our equipment has to perform when we need it to, and we feel that treating everything that we have with Envirosave is like having extra insurance on each machine. Every little bit helps in business, and we are grateful for such an amazing product.

Thank you Warren, for your continued assistance and consultation with every new piece of machinery we call you about, regarding your truly remarkable product. We have told many people over the years about Envirosave, as the more equipment running on it, the better.
